

Questions To Ask Yourself When Shopping For Auto Insurance

Ask yourself these questions before buying auto insurance:

1 How much coverage do I need?

Choose the coverage depending on your personal requirements like driving frequency, usual driving distances, demographics, parking options, etc.

2 How much deductible should I pay?

Paying higher deductible can lower insurance premium costs. However, it is advisable to choose a deductible based on your financial situation.

3 Does my ticketing record matter?

Insurance providers consider driving history and ticketing record while deciding the premium costs for your plan.

4 How many drivers should I list on my plan?

It is recommended to list all the driving license holders of your family for being able to conveniently file a claim, if needed, irrespective of who was driving.
